Chamber of Commerce holds first Community Breakfast

New program launched to support local businesses

The Clinton-Hickman County Chamber of Commerce held its annual meeting in a different sort of fashion this year. Instead of the usual dinner meeting, Chamber members met at 7 a.m. Thursday morning for a Community Breakfast at the Hickman County Cooperative Extension Office.

Chamber members cast their ballots for the board of directors, and while votes were tallied, heard messages from Hickman County Judge Executive Kenny Wilson and Extension Agent and Chamber board member Melissa Goodman.

Wilson spoke about the economic climate in Hickman County, and the county's Work Ready program.

"Lots of things are working for our businesses," he said, boasting

Spring Chicken Fest is this weekend

It's finally here. After almost a year of waiting, the Clinton-Hickman County Spring Chicken Festival is this weekend! The festival will include great food, carnival rides, a corn-hole tournament, live music, and original Chicken Fest events.

The Chicken Festival Committee has changed things up a little this year, and planned an exciting new "Faith and Family Night" for Friday, April 24. Well-known contemporary Christian band Calling Glory, as heard on the Christian radio station K-Love, will be on stage downtown Clinton at 7 p.m.

The band will be followed by Cameron Mills, former UK Wildcat basketball player and two-time NCAA champion. An ordained minister, Cameron travels across the United States speaking to church groups, high schools and other youth organizations. He challenges young people with messages of character development, individual excellence, leadership and abstinence from sex, drugs and alcohol.

Throughout the evening on Friday night, carnival rides, food vendors, arts and craft vendors, and information booths will be available.

The festival will get going early Saturday morning with a 10K beginning at 8 a.m. and the 5k walk/run beginning shortly after at 8:15. Registration for the run will be open from 7 a.m. to 7:45 at First Community Bank, and the awards ceremony will be at 10. There will also be a Kid's Fun Run at 10. All proceeds from the event will benefit St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The Slingin' Feed Cornhole Tournament will begin at 11 a.m. Registration for the tournament will open at 10 a.m. in the parking lot between First Community Bank and the Clinton First United Methodist Church. Prize money will be awarded to first, second, and third place-winning teams. The prize money amounts will be $200, $100, and $50.

The Hickman County Fiscal Court is hosting the Wild Wings Cookoff this year, and the winners will be announced at 11:15 Saturday morning. Wings will be donated to ICF to sell as a fund-raiser, so visitors will be able to catch a taste of the prize-winning wings until they sell out.

Children will find furry friends at the petting zoo, which will be open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday. There will be no charge to enjoy the petting zoo.

While the kids are hanging out with the animals, adults can head over to the corner of Highway 58 West and Jefferson St. to see antique tractors on display.

Carnival rides and inflatables for children will be available Friday night and all day on Saturday, and Chicken Fest T-shirts will be on sale for $10 each.

Local music talent on display Saturday will include Work "N Progress, The River Heart Band, Hope Band, a local blues band, Mickey Beck, Courtney Cagle, Melissa Jackson, Ryker Cagle, Hunter Cox, Austin Cunningham, and The Jammerz.

BOUTIQUE AT CITY HALL - The City of Clinton Relay for Life Team hosted a boutique fund raiser at the Clinton City Hall last Thursday, April 16. Above, City Clerk Donna Bryan browses through the selection. At right, Jonah Harper, of The Woods Boutique, sits at the register. The Woods Boutique partnered with the City of Clinton team for the fund raiser. Relay for Life is June 5 from 6 p.m. to 12 a.m. at the track behind Hickman County High School. Those interested in volunteering with Relay for Life, or in joining or starting a team can contact Suzette Reeves at 270-254-6222.

We want to hear from you!

If you have a question, comment, or complaint about something you saw in The Hickman County Gazette, or a suggestion, we'd love to hear from you!

MVP Group International Schedules Job Fair for Fulton Facility

In the EDP’s continuing effort to serve the dislocated workers of Parkway Regional Hospital and local industries, we are partnering with the Purchase Area Development District and West Kentucky Workforce Investment Board to assist MVP Group International, LLC to recruit new employees. A job fair is scheduled for Tuesday, April 28th from 10:00 am – 2:00 pm at the Pontotoc Civic Center located at 100 East Stateline Road in Fulton, Kentucky. The company will be recruiting experienced manufacturing workers for their Fulton facility. In March 2013, Governor Steve Beshear announced that MVP would be creating 150 new, full-time jobs in Fulton. During the past year, the facility has been working to establish production lines and build a quality workforce. After an excellent job fair in March where The April 28th job fair will help the company to recruit additional positions. All successful candidates will be hired directly by MVP Group International and will require a proven record of manufacturing experience. To apply, individuals will complete a job application, which will be provided at the job fair. Positions available include: maintenance technicians, lab technicians, quality assurance technicians, team leads, and production supervisors. All job-seekers are invited to attend, but only those with a minimum of three years of manufacturing experience, will be allowed to submit an application. “We need experienced, responsible manufacturing workers at this time,” explained Jeanna Tucker, MVP Human Resources Director. “Applications from those without experienced manufacturing will be used to fill entry-level positions as needed.” For more information or to receive an application packet before April 28th, please visit or call the Kentucky Career Center at (270) 247-3857. The Kentucky Career Center is located 319 S. 7th Street, Mayfield, KY 42066.

Relay for Life is June 5

The annual Hickman County Relay for Life event is scheduled for Friday, June 5, from 6 p.m. until midnight. The Relay for Life committee is also hosting a Princess Tea Party on Saturday, May 2, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon at the Young Center. Relay for Life committee still needs teams, and chairwoman Suzette Reeves says it’s not too late for teams to sign up. The committee is also in need of cakes from volunteers or survivors for the cake auction at the Relay event. For more information, or to volunteer, call Suzette Reeves at 270-254-6222.

that Hickman County’s unemployment rate has dropped to 5.7 percent and is now the 18th lowest in Kentucky. “We need a trained workforce.” Wilson updated those present about the Work Ready designation that the county is pursuing, and said that Hickman County already has several things working for it, mentioning that Hickman County High School is the only school in the state that has a graduation rate and College and Career Readiness rate of 100 percent or higher. He also spoke about Hickman County’s one-of-a-kind dual credit program, Falcon Academy. He said that through Falcon Academy, high school students have an opportunity to earn college credits at no cost to the students or their parents. He referred to Hickman County Agriculture and Natural Resource Extension Agent Mattea Lock, who was one of the programs first graduates in 2011. Lock then went onto Murray State University, where she obtained her Bachelor’s Degree in only two and a half years. Falcon Academy, he said, is funded through private donations from 68 area businesses and individuals. “Who else in the state pays for their students to get college credits?” he asked. “Nobody,” was the answer. “I think we’re ready to really rock,” he concluded. Extension Agent and Chamber board member Melissa Goodman spoke about the Chamber’s new “Neighbor Helping Neighbor” program. She explained that the Chamber would sell stamp cards for $5 each to individuals in the community. Shoppers can take these cards when they go to local businesses and receive a stamp for each $10 spent at a business that is a member of the Chamber of Commerce. Once the card receives 10 stamps, it can be turned in for a drawing for a $500 cash prize. There will be two drawings per year, she said. One will be at the annual Spring Chicken Festival, and the other will be at the Christmas Parade. She said that member businesses that would like to participate will receive kits for implementing the stamp card system. After Goodman’s presentation, Chamber board member Deena Pittman announced the results of the election of board of directors. Directors are listed on the ballot as business names, unless the individual is an individual member of the Chamber of Commerce. The 2015-16 Clinton-Hickman County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors include Clinton Bank, First Community Bank, Jason Batts, Kenny Wilson, Deena Pittman, The Hickman County Board of Education, Christy Kimbell, Laura Poole, and the Hickman County Extension Office. About the Clinton-Hickman County Chamber of Commerce *The Clinton-Hickman County Chamber of Commerce exists to promote local businesses, enhance a sense of community, provide a viable social network and encourage a quality lifestyle. HDTV to be raffled at Chicken Fest

The Rotary Club of Clinton will raffle off a 48 inch Samsung Smart TV at the Spring Chicken Festival on Saturday, April 25 at 3 p.m. Raffle tickets are available for sale at either Clinton Bank or First Community Bank, or from any Rotarian. Tickets are $5, and all proceeds will go to club’s scholarship fund. Last year, the Clinton Rotary Club gave six $1,000 scholarships to Hickman County graduates. Visitors at the Chicken Festival will also have an opportunity to enter into a $250 cash drawing. The only requirement for entrants is that they watch an approximately five-minute video about Rotary. This is part of a campaign to spread awareness of Rotary.

LOOK AT ME NOW!

A success story from Clinton Place

Ms. Nancy Wolverton is described as witty, talkative, loves “bling” and multi-talented. She is a retired Hickman County High School teacher, is a resident of Clinton, and is a true SUCCESS story for Clinton Place!!!! Ms. Wolverton came to our Center in March following a recent hospitalization. At admission, she was very weak, had swallowing difficulties, and unable to perform necessary daily living tasks. In order to reach her Prior Level of Functioning, she participated in Physical, Occupational and Speech Therapies during her stay with excellent results. Through Ms. Wolverton’s diligence, motivation, and the skills of both the nursing and therapy departments, she returned to her home in one month. Clinton Place is noted to be a leader in short-term rehab and we are honored that Nancy Wolverton chose our Center to assist her. When asked for her input, these were Ms. Wolverton’s words: “I am so grateful for Clinton Place. I have had such a rewarding and wonderful time here and was treated so well. I would highly recommend the Therapy Department and the entire staff to anyone that may need help and assistance. It is highly recommended by me and if I ever am in need of assistance again, I would definitely choose Clinton Place”. We thank you for your kind words,

“I am so grateful for Clinton Place. I have had such a rewarding and wonderful time here and was treated so well.”
-Nancy Wolverton

Ms. Wolverton!!!! We want to wish you the best as you continue to progress, continue to shop, continue to “bling”, and continue to be your best. Again, Clinton Place is honored that you chose us for your rehabilitation needs.

Set in concrete

Some things that need to be done would have been a lot simpler if they were done the right way in the beginning.

The term “set in concrete” now has hit home with us.

This week part of our concrete driveway will be cut apart to make way for a drain. Why didn’t we put the drain in when we had the concrete poured? That’s a question for the ages, and there’s no concrete answer. Well, there is to this one as now five inches of nice concrete will have to be cut away to make room for a four-inch wide u-drain that will hopefully divert some of the flood waters away from the pool house.

There will be another section of driveway at the bottom cut away for a bit shorter drain. It is in front of the pool house door and will route rainwater into a yet-to-be-installed drain under the outside wall of the pool house, out the back and down the slope.

Our driveway is pretty much level until it starts the steep slope to the bottom parking area and the pool in the back of the house. The concrete provides a nice slide for all the rains. Waters rush down the slope and pour in at the natural resting place, the stone wall of the pool house where the door sits. The pool house floor in concrete and gets a good soaking in even the mild rains.

It would have been much easier (and smarter) to have installed the drains when the driveway was first poured, but now that all is in place there’s not much choice but to cut away a slot (and probably ruin a saw blade or two) and put the drains in.

A lot of things in life are like this. It is simpler to do many things right the first time than to come along later in life and try to fix it.

Politicians are forever trying to make new laws to fix our Constitution when it really doesn’t need fixing and most of the laws undo changes made through the years. If only they would leave a good thing alone, and if our founding fathers had had the foresight to see what changes would come to our country, perhaps they may have changed a few things in the beginning.

Some say change is inevitable. Maybe so. But that is only my opinion. What’s yours?

Kentucky State Parks Open For Spring, Summer Travel Season

FRANKFORT, Ky. - Kentucky State Parks are open and ready for another spring and summer season of guests enjoying outdoor activities all across the state.

“Our 49 parks have something for everyone - recreation, history, wildlife viewing, fishing, boating and more,” Parks Commissioner Elaine Walker said. “We invite Kentuckians and our out-of-state guests to visit one or more of our parks this year.”

All 17 resort parks with lodging and restaurants are open seven days a week. All recreation parks and historic sites are also open. Visitors should check the parks website, www.parks.ky.gov for reservations and information.

parks.ky.gov, for hours and special events.

The park system’s 31 campgrounds and 16 golf courses are also open.

Upcoming special events include Camper Appreciation Weekend April 24-26, when campers can get two nights for the price of one. The Mother’s Day buffet will be May 10 at the resort park restaurants.

Other events include Derby weekends, hikes, paddle trips, entertainment and more. Visit www.parks.ky.gov for reservations and information.

The Kentucky State Park System is composed of 49 state parks plus an interstate park shared with Virginia. The Department of Parks, an agency of the Tourism, Arts and Heritage Cabinet, operates 17 resort parks with lodges -- more than any other state. For more information on Kentucky parks, visit our website at <http://www.parks.ky.gov>

USDA Reminds Farmers to Certify Conservation Compliance by June 1 Deadline

Producers May Need to Take Action to Remain Eligible for Crop Insurance Premium Support WASHINGTON, D.C., April 16, 2015 – The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reminds farmers that the 2014 Farm Bill requires producers to file a Highly Erodible Land Conservation and Wetland Conservation Certification form (AD-1026) with their local USDA service center by June 1, 2015, in order to become or remain eligible for crop insurance premium support. Most farmers already have a certification form on file since it’s required for participation in most USDA programs such as marketing assistance loans, farm storage facility loans and disaster assistance. However farmers, such as specialty crop growers who receive federal crop insurance premium support, but may not participate in other USDA programs, also must now file a certification form to maintain their crop insurance premium support.

“USDA employees are working very hard to get the word out about this new Farm Bill provision,” said Agriculture Secretary Tom Vilsack. “While many producers will not need to take action, we want to help make sure that those who are required to act do so by the June 1 deadline. We want all eligible producers to be able to maintain their ability to protect their operations with affordable insurance.”

Producers should visit their local USDA service center and talk with their crop insurance agent before the June 1, 2015, deadline to ask questions, get additional information or learn more about conservation compliance procedures. Producers that file their form by the deadline will be eligible for federal crop insurance premium support during the 2016 reinsurance year, which begins July 1, 2015. USDA will publish a rule outlining the linkage of conservation compliance with federal crop insurance premium support. Go to <http://go.usa.gov/3Wy5J> to view a copy of the rule.

The Highly Erodible Land Conservation and Wetland Conservation Certification form is available at local USDA service center or online at www.fsa.usda.gov/AD1026form. When a farmer completes this form, USDA Farm Service Agency and Natural Resources Conservation Service staff will outline any additional actions that may be required for compliance with highly erodible land and wetland provisions. USDA’s Risk Management Agency, through the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, manages the federal crop insurance program that provides the modern farm safety net for America’s farmers and ranchers.

Today’s announcement was made possible by the 2014 Farm Bill, which builds on historic economic gains in rural America over the past six years, while achieving meaningful reform and billions of dollars in savings for the taxpayer. Since enactment, USDA has implemented many provisions of this critical legislation, providing disaster relief to farmers and ranchers; strengthening risk management tools; expanding access to rural credit; funding critical research; establishing innovative public-private conservation partnerships; developing new markets for rural-made products; and investing in infrastructure, housing and community facilities to help improve quality of life in rural America. For more information, visit www.usda.gov/farmbill.

John Hill gave the Sunday School devotion from Romans. Put to death your earthly desires. We are not immune from sin, we have to battle with it everyday. Paul was a strong Christian but he said himself it is a process we have to deal with daily.

Tanner Dublin signed to “Places” David Crowder sang “Glorious Day”

Bro. Dustin’s message was from Mark 5: 1 - 20 “The Maniac” Conversion of the Heart. Only after you have Jesus in your heart can the devil be cast out. Get Jesus in there and then the devil will leave. vs 15 says “And they come to Jesus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.” In vs 19 Jesus suffered him not, but saith unto him, “Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.” Jesus told him to go tell his friends. Bro. Dustin said “We aint got time to Micky Mouse around, we need to get right and get the word out.” Bro. Dustin said Jesus took time for people like this Maniac and we should too. We need to have compassion and love for everyone like Jesus did.

Greetings to all!

Well they say April showers bring May flowers and with that said we should have a bumper crop!

That time of the year baseball, hotdogs, apple pie and chevorlet. I watched my grandsons, Conner and Bentley play their open season game. A perfect Sat. for baseball and any other outside activities.

On Easter Sunday the Mt. Zion church hosted a Sonrise service including the Wesley and Bayou de Chein churches. Bro. Ken Richards, pastor of the Bayou de Chein brought the early morning message with special music by a church member, Baker Thompson. A country ham breakfast and all the trimmings followed.

Mark your calendar, it’s starting up again the community wide breakfast held at the Wesley church this Sat beginning at 6:30 to 8:30. This is a great time of community fellowship.

Alan Paul was the guest speaker at Wesley on Sunday. He along with his wife, Melinda Bugg Paul and her parents, Fred & Corolyn Bugg attended. Other home folk visitors included Gary & Carol Batts Stuart and Chad & Amanda Batts. They enjoyed visiting with their families before returning home.

Sunday visitors with David & PatCollinsincludedtheirchildren,

7 of their 10 grandchildren, and 4 great-grandchildren. I know they had a great time! Janice Lawrence Del Valle & girls, Sarah and Lindsey enjoyed a week’s visit in San Angelo, Tx while on Spring break. Unfortunately Lindsey returned home with a broken arm. We wish her a speedy recovery. On Sunday a birthday meal was held at Wayne & Linda Lawrence’s home with special honorees Wayne and Alicia Walker. About 14 in attendance joined in the celebration!

Happy birthday wishes to Susie Dixon on the 21, Brenda Cagle on the 22, Mary Kimbro & Roger Jackson on the 23, Celia Batts on the 24, and to Ramona Moon on the 25. Happy belated wedding anniversary wishes to Clyde & Celia Batts on the 10 and to Jimmy & Connie Cox on the 14. Happy anniversary wishes to Robert & Carol Mullins on the 19.

Prayer concerns include Tim Rodgers, Maggie Brockwell, Jamie Derevage(son on Judy Snider), Bro. Dennis Gardner, Jackie Lynch(recovering from knee surgery), our area churces, the shut-ins, those who have lost loves ones recently, our nation, and our military. In closing 4 things you can’t recover - the stone after the throw - the word after it’s said - the occasion after it’s missed - the time after it’s gone. Have a blessed week!

PROGRAMMED

I am not a computer guy, but I know they must be programmed, and you get out of them basically what you put in them.

PASTOR TOM HOSKINS

I heard a preacher say, “I am just an old sinner saved by grace. I s h o u l d be down there in the gutter with the rest of the sinners!

That’s a popular concept.

We are not just old sinners if we belong to Jesus. The bible says we are saints, Greek, (hagios), holy ones. If we keep telling ourselves we are just old sinners, we program ourselves to sin. Not that we live above win (1John 1:10), but such thinking above will lead us to accept a certain amount of sin as normal behavior when God said, “Be you holy for I am holy.”

I heard Charles Stanley say recently, “We need to start taking the attitude, we don’t have to sin.” Doesn’t the bible say, “Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound? God forbid” (Romans 6:12). The bible also says, “Abstain from all appearances of evil.” That’s instruction we all should be working on.

For Your Information

Social Security Matters

by AMAC’s Certified Social Security Advisor C.J. Miles
Association of Mature American Citizens

QUESTION: I am filing to receive ex-spouse Social Security benefits. I was told by a friend of mine that her benefits are reduced because her husband works and makes too much money. I know my ex-husband works. Will his earnings reduce my benefits?

ANSWER: It sounds like your friend is talking about the Annual Earnings Limit. If you are under full retirement age and you earn over a certain income level, you (and your dependents receiving benefits on your record) will receive a reduction in your benefit amount. (The Earnings Limit changes every year.) However, this does not apply to ex-spouses. Therefore, it does not matter how much your ex-husband earns - it will not affect your benefit amount. Only your own earnings could possibly reduce your benefit while you are receiving ex-spouse benefits.

QUESTION: I talked to the Social Security office about my choices for filing for Social Security benefits and was told that I can get ex-spouse benefits and hold off on getting my own benefits. But my ex-husband is remarried and his current wife and son are also getting benefits off of his record. I’ve heard of the family maximum and with all these people on his record, should I just get my own benefits? At this rate, my ex-spouse benefits are going to be hardly anything

ANSWER: Assuming your ex-husband’s current wife and son are his qualifying dependents (and assuming the son is not your dependent), they probably are affected by the family maximum, which reduces their monthly benefits. The actual amount of the family maximum is a formula that is a little too complex to explain here, but in general, it comes out to anywhere between 150% and 180% of the worker’s full benefit amount. To use a simple example, let’s say that your ex-husband’s full benefit amount is $1,000 and the family maximum for them is 150%, or $1,500. This would mean that the dependents (the wife and child) would have to split the amount over $1,000 evenly even if they are entitled to more if there were no family maximum (i.e. $250/month each instead of $500/month).

The good news for you is that Social Security’s family maximum rules do not apply to ex-spouse benefits. Therefore, you are not affected by his son’s and current wife’s Social Security benefits on his record. In addition, the same is true for them – your benefits on his record do not affect their family maximum. So regardless of which benefit amount you prefer to take at this time, do not worry about this issue in your situation.

And just in case you are wondering, multiple ex-spouses can receive benefits on the same person’s record without affecting the family maximum.

QUESTION: I’m currently 71 years old and started getting my Social Security payments about 5 years ago. I have no children, wife, or other dependents. I was only married once for a brief period when I was in my 40s. So what happens to my survivor’s benefits from Social Security when I’m gone? Should I contact them and tell them who I want my beneficiary to be?

ANSWER: In order for someone to receive survivor’s benefits on your record they would have to be some kind of dependent, such as a spouse or child. This also includes step-children, adopted children, and ex-spouses. However, it sounds like these situations may not apply to you. Any child would have to meet some criteria, such as an age limit or disability. You mentioned that you have an ex-wife, but you may not have been married long enough for her to receive your survivor’s benefits. In order for a divorced surviving spouse to get a benefit, the two of you would have had to be married for at least 10 years. In addition, she would have had to stay single at least until the age of 60 to receive the benefit. Note that these requirements also apply for the lump-sum death payment of $255.

If there is not anyone who meets these eligibility requirements, no one will receive survivor’s benefits based on your Social Security record, including the lump-sum payment. You cannot give them an alternative beneficiary. The only other potential beneficiary would be a dependent parent if you are caring for one (or both) and if he/she is your dependent. Or, of course, you could always remarry! (Note that unlike other marriage requirements rules for spouses and ex-spouses, a widow(er) can receive surviving spouse benefits after only nine months of marriage.)

To ask a question about Social Security contact AMAC’s C.J. Miles at cmiles@amac.us.

AREA NEWS

Kentucky's soybean farmers celebrate Earth Day every day

As the nation pauses to celebrate Earth Day, it's important to realize that farmers take care of the Earth every day.

"One of the biggest buzzwords we hear these days is 'stewardship,'" said Clinton farmer Jerry Peery. "We've been good stewards for years, we just always called it conservation... or just being a good farmer." Stewardship of the land and sustainability are top-of-mind subjects for farmers, most of whom are family farmers who plan to pass their operations down to the next generation someday.

"We've been working on conservation all my life," Peery said. "Conservation isn't an 'activity' that you do once and then you're done. Learning about and implementing good conservation practices is a day-in and day-out thing if you want to do it right. We stay busy year-round working on waterways, clearing debris from our streams and mowing the border strips. It's a full-time job."

Farmers across the Commonwealth use cover crops, plant buffer strips, and utilize no-till techniques to help nourish the soil and keep it anchored in the fields. Alongside soil, water is a top priority for farmers. They watch where the water is going naturally and take the appropriate measures to develop a system to keep the water – which is sometimes a farmer's best friend – from carrying the soil away.

"We work hard to build up the nutrients in the soil," Peery

Clinton soybean farmer Jerry Peery of Spring Hill Farm shows off some of the radishes he grows as a cover crop. Tillage radishes such as these reduce compaction of the soil and pave the way for the roots of cash crops such as soybeans and corn to anchor into soil, allowing them to absorb water and nutrients through their root systems. Cover crops such as tillage radishes, cereal rye, and crimson clover anchor the soil and help prevent erosion, in addition to adding valuable nutrients to the soil as they decompose.

said, "and we don't want all of our hard work floating down to the Gulf of Mexico."

The folks at Spring Hill Farm must be doing it right. In 2014, Peery was presented with the Southern Region Conservation Legacy Award by the American Soybean Association and the Leopold Conservation Award for the state of Kentucky.

JACKSON COMPETES AT STATE GOVERNOR'S CUP

Brooke Jackson, daughter of Steve and Laura Jackson, placed 1st in Language Arts at the district Governor's Cup Competition and 5th in the region. Her regional ranking earned her a chance to compete at the state level in Louisville on March 14th. She represented Hickman County very well.

Governor's Cup was founded in 1986 as a way to promote, reward and recognize outstanding academic achievement. Since then, over a quarter of a million students have taken part in the event.

Governor's Cup has become the state's premier academic event, involving over 20,000 students, nearly 1200 schools, and thousands of coaches, administrators, parents and community leaders who see the rewards gained from encouraging academic performance through properly structured and professionally administered academic competition.

GOVERNOR'S SCHOLARS PROGRAM - Five Hickman County High School juniors were selected to attend the prestigious Governor's Scholars Program. Shown from left are Savannah Sublette, Sarah Harpole, Hope Harper, Maiesa Simmons and Noah Cunningham.

Students, faculty hitting high marks at HCHS

Daniel Richardson

Hickman County High School is soaring high as spring has brought several honors to the school.

Results came in last week for the HCHS juniors who took the ACT this year, with their average composite score of 21.56. This is the highest average for a junior class in Hickman County High School history.

State rankings for this year have not yet been released, but HCHS Principal Kevin Estes said that based on last year's results, the score would put HCHS in the top 13 in the state for ACT scores.

"We'll definitely be in the top 10 percent," he said.

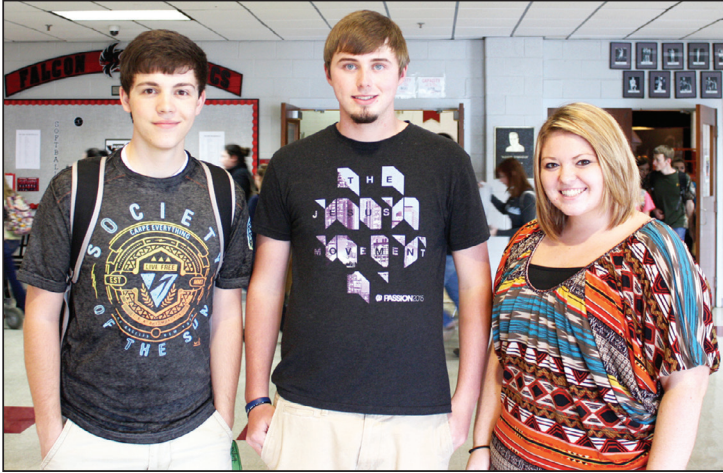

Estes credits the high score to hard work put in by students and teachers throughout the year, as well as some test prep software that the school system has invested in.

HCHS offers several after school programs to prepare for ACT testing, as well as preparation built into the classroom curriculum, and the John Baylor ACT prep program that students complete at home.

In addition to high ACT scores, the junior class has also been honored by having a record-high five students selected for the Governor's Scholars Program, and three students selected for Commonwealth Honors Academy at MSU.

Sarah Harpole, Maiesa Simmons, Noah Cunningham, Savannah Sublet, and Hope Harper were all selected for GSP.

The Governor's Scholars Program is a summer residential program for outstanding high school students in Kentucky who are rising seniors. The Program originated in 1983 as a result of Kentucky leaders' concern that the state's "best and brightest" were leaving the Commonwealth to pursue educational and career opportunities elsewhere without fully understanding the potential of their talents at home. Students who are selected attend the Program without charge. In the spirit of partnership, the Office of the Governor, the Kentucky State Legislature, and private enterprise come together to provide the financial support for the Program.

COMMONWEALTH HONORS ACADEMY - Three HCHS juniors were selected to attend the Commonwealth Honors Academy this summer at Murray State University. Shown from left, Jonathan Reynolds, Ben Wilson, and Hailey Dixon will spend three weeks this summer at MSU and earn six college credit hours, and will be eligible for an additional six credit hours next school year at no cost. The have also earned a $2,000 housing scholarship to MSU for four years.

The Program's mission is to enhance Kentucky's next generation of civic and economic leaders. The first class numbered 230 and was housed on one college campus. Since then, the Program has enjoyed excellent support and grown to over 1,000 students on three campuses.

Ben Wilson, Hailey Dixon, and Jonathan Reynolds were selected to attend the Commonwealth Honors Academy at Murray State University.

The Commonwealth Honors Academy (CHA) is an exciting, challenging three-week academic, social and personal growth program for outstanding high school students who have completed their junior year. Students will be selected from the Commonwealth and surrounding region. Upon completion of CHA, students will: receive six hours of university credit, have the opportunity to take three hours of tuition-free university courses at Murray State University during the subsequent fall and spring semesters, and be awarded a four-year, $2,000-per-year housing scholarship to attend Murray State University CHA differs from the traditional high school in its approach to learning and in the creation of a living-learning community. CHA offers students a chance to know and make friends with other enthusiastic, energetic students with high intellectual capacities. The interaction of students with different backgrounds is one of the most valuable aspects of the academy.

Estes said that getting into these and other scholarship programs is becoming increasingly competitive. In addition to outstanding grades and extra-curricular activities at school, he said scholarship boards are looking more at what students are doing away from the school, and how it affects their future as a student and a leader in society.

"Community service has become huge when it comes to competition for scholarships," he said. Schools are not only asking students what they did with their volunteer time, but how it affected them.

Estes said that qualifying community service includes volunteer involvement with Church and community activities such as Relay for Life or the Annual Hickman County Chicken Festival.

Grimmitts welcome Olivia Paige

Logan and Lucas Grimmitt would like to announce the arrival of their baby sister, Olivia Paige Grimmitt.

Olivia was born March 20, at 8 a.m. at Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She weighed 7 lbs. 11 oz. and was 20 inches long.

Olivia is the daughter of Jeremy and Paige (Poynor) Grimmitt of Clinton. She is the granddaughter of Mike and Rhonda Grimmitt of Columbus, and Harry Poynor of Hickman, and Jeannie Poynor of Union City, Tenn.

She is the great-granddaughter of Mary Ruth Poynor of Hickman, Sue Aycock of Wickliffe, and Sandra Sarten of Jackson, Tenn.
